

Will you sponsor the education of a child in India?

Background

Adventure Ashram has agreed funding for a project to educate 30 children from Mudumalai Tiger Reserve, Tamil Nadu, India. Until June 2011 the children were on a waiting list to attend school. The school fees were unaffordable for their families, and their route to school through the elephant corridor too dangerous.

We are delighted that Adventure Ashram and its supporters have paid for a new vehicle, driver and their school fees until June 2012. They can now go to school, in safety and attend on a daily basis.

Adventure Ashram has pledged to generate future support to ensure the children have the quality education they need to graduate from school with the qualifications needed to begin the next stage of their lives.

Please join us in sponsoring their education.
See overleaf for details

How much will it cost?

Just £115 will pay for one child to have:

- 1 year of school tuition
- School bag with note books, pen, pencils, drawing books
- 2 school uniforms including socks and shoes
- School activities like dance, music and computers
- Regular health check-ups and vaccinations
- Safe transport* to and from school

vehicle and driver funded by Adventure Ashram*

A sponsors story

'I have found sponsoring a child's education to be one of the most satisfying gifts you can give. Sponsoring a child in India had the added bonus for me of being able to visit their school and meet the children and see for myself how the children were improving and growing as individuals, and how they and their families were benefitting from their education. These children don't take education for granted, they cherish it and they thrive on it and it will benefit them and their families for life. What greater gift can be given to anyone?' Wendy Smith Trustee for Adventure Ashram
